1. If a minor will be using services connected to the internet, we would recommend signing up to a filtering service.

- When using the internet, young people may come into contact with harmful materials that could be detrimental to their personal development. The internet also exposes users to risks such as the following. We therefore recommend signing up to a filtering service.
You can still sign up even if the contract holder is an adult, providing that the user is a minor.

- Accessing dating sites, adult sites or other sites featuring violent content frequently leads to users becoming involved in criminal activity.
 * Mobile users account for around 97% of cases involving dating sites.
 Around 64% of victims are minors aged under 18. (National Police Agency figures, February 2011)
- Exchanging information with unknown users via personal profile or social networking sites can lead to the theft of personal information or issues such as violation of publicity rights due to the unauthorized usage of photos.
- Posting irresponsible comments about specific individuals on blogs or online discussion boards can lead to users being linked to and implicated in libel or defamation.
- Posting potentially criminal or threatening messages, even without intent, can lead to users being charged with offenses such as forcible obstruction of business or intimidation.

If the contract holder is different from the user of the au mobile phone, the contract holder can register using their own details.

- If the contract holder or the user is a minor, and if the applicant wishes to decline filtering services, an Application to Decline Filtering Services must be submitted.
 If the applicant brings in an Application to Decline Filtering Services unaccompanied by a parent/guardian, confirmation must be obtained from the parent/guardian by telephone.

2. Disclaimers Concerning Applications for Consumer Credit Agreements

- According to the provisions in the Installment Sales Act, personal credit information, including the contract holder's payment status, is queried and registered at a credit information agency designated by the Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry at the time of applying for a consumer credit agreement, and after entering the agreement. Other members of the designated credit information agency may also use the information about the registered contract holder.
- Even if the contract holder is a minor and the parent or guardian falls into arrears with respect to payments, the payment arrears will be treated as information about the under-age contract holder.
Please note that applications for other credit lines or loans may be denied since a record of any payment arrears is held at the designated consumer credit agency for a period of 5 years after full payment.
- If signing a Consumer Credit Agreement when applying to purchase a mobile phone or other device*, the parent will be required to come into the store on each occasion (for the purpose of parental consent).
 * Applications to purchase a mobile phone include new devices, upgrades, additional devices and loss replacement services.

3. Other precautions

- To make monthly payments using the parent/guardian's credit card, the applicant must be no more than years old and be accompanied by the relevant parent/guardian at the time of application.
- If any of the information entered on this form (name, address, contact details, etc.) is found to be inaccurate, the contract may be terminated.
